"The complaints of foreign buyers alleging supply of sub-standard quality goods aginst Indian exporters received in the Cell are referred for investigation and settlement to Regional Standing Committees on Quality Complaints set up for the purpose at Ahmedabad, Bangalore, Bombay, Calcutta, Cochin, Delhi, Hyderabd, Kanpur, Ludhiana and Madras. If the disputes are settled to the satisfaction of foreign buyers through conciliation and/or if the Regional Commiitee after considering the facts of the case, decides that there is no fault on the part of Indian exporter/ manufacturer and/or that the complaint is not genuine, the case is dropped. In cases where the committee fails to settle the dispute amicably and concilliation does not take place and the committee finds that the fault lies with the Indian exporters or that they are not cooperating, such cases are decided by the Committee to be dealt with under the penal and adjudication provisions of the FTDR Act/rules applicable and the cases are then referred for adjudication."
